About Deb Krier

Deb Krier is a LinkedIn Strategist, social media advisor, and motivational speaker. With more than 25 years as a marketing and public relations professional, she's passionate about helping professionals promote themselves and their businesses. Deb has given keynote presentations, seminars and workshops to groups throughout the United States.

Deb uses real-world examples, humor, personal insights and stories to inspire, educate and entertain audiences. Drawing on her experience in working for small businesses, one of the largest corporations in the world, the nonprofit realm and now as an entrepreneur, she teaches strategic tools and skills that enables everyone to improve their business, whether large or small.

In 2015, Deb was diagnosed with Stage 4 metastatic breast cancer. After facing catastrophic complications, she now loves to tell her story as a cancer survivor and showing that “the alternative was not acceptable.”

Deb is also the host of The Business Power Hour® on C-Suite Radio. Since 2011, Deb has interviewed business experts, providing tips and techniques for entrepreneurs and business owners to help make themselves and their businesses successful.
